PREAMBLE

Before you offer yourself as a Candidate for Freemasonry, it is deemed advisable that you should be informed, to some extent, as to the purposes of this Institution. Primarily, Freemasonry requires a belief in Deity, for no atheist may become a Mason. It also requires a clean moral life, for a Mason must also be a good citizen. Freemasonry strives to teach a man the duty he owes to God, his country, his neighbor and himself. It inculcates the practice of every virtue and makes an extensive use of symbolism in its teachings. It does not interfere with religion or politics and will not countenance any argument or contention within the Lodge in connection with an attempt to influence the religious or political beliefs of any person. Freemasonry is distinctly fraternal. This fact cannot be too strongly emphasized. There are no sick or death benefits or other emoluments associated with lodge membership. Freemasonry affords and opportunity to study the fundamental principles of a useful life, to unite with other men for service to mankind an particularly for service to his brother Masons. To membership in the society are attached certain duties and obligations including the investigation of new applicants, assistance in teaching the candidates our Masonic principles, living a life consistent with being a helpful citizen, neighbor and friend, and a devotion to the welfare of other Masons who may require a friendly visit or helping hand. Unless there now dwells in your heart a devoted belief in the universal promotion of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man and in addition you desire to engage actively in its promotion with a spirit of helpfulness to your fellow man, you should not apply for membership in a Masonic Lodge.

I have read the above statement and I am in sympathy with the ideas there set forth therein and desire to serve with others in their promotion.
